Local Favorites • National Brands • Beverage Program Builders

Updated June 2026

From local craft favorites and premium ready-to-drink coffee to trusted brands and customizable drink solutions, operators have more opportunities than ever to create a lineup that stands apart.

Whether in a cooler, on a menu, or behind the bar, the right mix of products can help meet growing consumer demand for personalization while offering something beyond the expected.

Local Favorites

Regional brands continue to stand out by offering customers something they can't find everywhere. Del's brings its iconic Northeast lemonade flavors to bottled and canned formats, while Maine Root craft sodas deliver distinctive flavors and premium appeal. Produced in Maine, Ricker Hill sparkling ciders provide a delicious local option that bridges the gap between traditional soft drinks and premium refreshment.

Beverage Program Builders

The beverage opportunity doesn't stop at the cooler door. Monin syrups, concentrates, and beverage enhancers make it easy to create flavored lemonades, refreshers, mocktails, Italian sodas, specialty coffees, and other signature drinks that give customers more ways to personalize their beverage experience. Premium ready-to-drink options like Sail Away Nitro Cold Brew and Beachball Organic Teas further expand variety while appealing to customers seeking alternatives to traditional soft drinks.

Trending Now: Beverage Customization

One of the fastest-growing trends in the category is beverage customization, combining traditional soft drinks with flavor syrups, creamers, and other enhancements to create highly personalized drink experiences. Pair Pepsi, Mountain Dew, Maine Root sodas, Del's Lemonade, and other beverages with Monin flavors and Rich's All-Purpose Creamer to create dirty sodas and other signature offerings that can command premium pricing and set a beverage program apart.
