Kelly Worcester
SCHOOL SPECIALIST

Welcome Back! Let's Get Cooking!

The backpacks are packed. The bells are ready to ring. And just like that... it's time to do it all again!

A new school year brings a fresh start—and a whole new serving of possibilities. New students, new menus, new challenges, and hopefully a few new ideas to make the year ahead a little easier and a lot more delicious.

We know that feeding students is about so much more than what goes on the tray. It's about creating meals students look forward to, finding ways to meet changing needs, working within a budget, navigating dietary restrictions, and keeping everything moving when the lunch line is a mile long. It takes creativity, flexibility, and a whole lot of heart—and you bring all of that to the table every single day.

That's where we come in.

At Dennis Food Service, we're here to help you tackle the school year ahead with products you can count on, ideas to spark inspiration, and resources designed to make your job easier. Inside, you'll find products, solutions, and a few fresh ideas to help you plan, prep, and serve with confidence.

But don't stop here! Be sure to check out our Dennis K-12 Website and K-12 Facebook page for even more menu inspiration, resources, rebates, and ideas to keep your program moving forward.

So, here's to a new school year—and everything that comes with it. The busy days, the big ideas, the unexpected challenges, the small victories, and all the students who count on you every day.

Let's make this school year, and everything beyond it, one to remember.

We're here for you, every step of the way.

BIC ensures that all students — especially those who might otherwise skip breakfast — start the day nourished. It's a simple, low-impact change that can improve focus, attendance, behavior, and long-term academic success ca-breakfast.nokidhungry.org+1.

KEY BENEFITS

1. Improves Academic Performance

Studies show that eating breakfast boosts memory, focus, problem-solving skills, and performance on math, reading, and standardized tests. Students who eat breakfast are less likely to make errors and more likely to succeed in class www.fuelup.org+1.

2. Increases Attendance and Reduces Absenteeism

Serving breakfast after the bell can cut absenteeism by about 6% on average. Regular attendance is linked to higher graduation rates — students who attend more days are 20% more likely to graduate www.fuelup.org.

3. Reduces Behavioral Issues

Well-fed students tend to have fewer distractions, frustration reactions, and classroom disruptions. Teachers report a calmer, more engaged learning environment www.fuelup.org+1.

4. Builds Healthy Habits

Regular breakfast consumption supports better nutrient intake, helps prevent being overweight, and sets a lifelong pattern of healthy eating cnw.ksde.gov.

5. Overcomes Barriers to Participation

Many students miss out on cafeteria breakfasts due to bus schedules, distance, or stigma. BIC removes these barriers, often increasing participation by 30% www.fuelup.org+1.

6. Saves Time and Reduces Mess

BIC typically takes only 10–15 minutes, often during morning activities like announcements or reading. Menus are planned to be hand-held and easy to clean, and cleanup is usually handled by students or custodial staff Penn State PRO Wellness.

7. Boosts School Nutrition Revenue

Higher participation means more federal reimbursement for the school's nutrition program www.fuelup.org.

INCREASE PARTICIPATION WITH MAINE POTATOES

THE IMPORTANCE OF Grains IN SCHOOL NUTRITION

GRAINS
FOR Greatness

Grains are a great starting point for meals and can serve as a vehicle for other food groups and nutrients.¹

Whole grain-rich foods like waffles, toaster pastries, cereal bars, and crackers are also a big hit with kids – they're quick, convenient, and delicious.

TOP-NOTCH NUTRIENTS

Both whole and enriched grains contain carbohydrates, which our bodies use for energy. Grain-based foods are important sources of key nutrients like iron, zinc, and B vitamins.²

THE NUMBERS ADD UP

Grain-based foods contribute nearly 55% of the fiber consumed in the U.S.³ – while making up less than 10% of the saturated fat and added sugar kids eat each day!²

MORE IS LESS

Whole grains help promote healthy eating in your students. Higher whole grain consumption is associated with decreased risk of being overweight or obese in children and adolescents ages 5–18.⁴

DID YOU KNOW?

Higher whole grain intake has been associated with improved cognitive function in kids and teens!⁵

MAKE GRAINS A STANDARD IN SCHOOL MEALS

When involved parents, dedicated cafeteria managers, and innovative foodservice suppliers work together, greatness is always on the menu! Let's help put our students on the path to a brighter future with nourishing, nutrient-rich grains in every meal.

Which Soap System is Right for You?

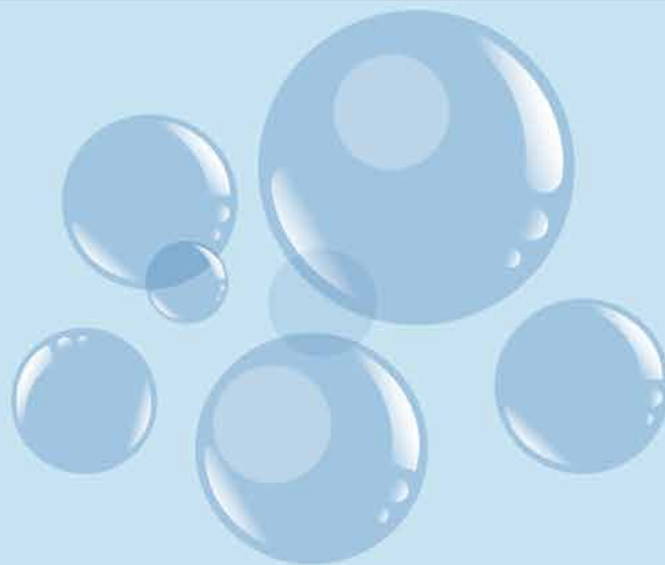

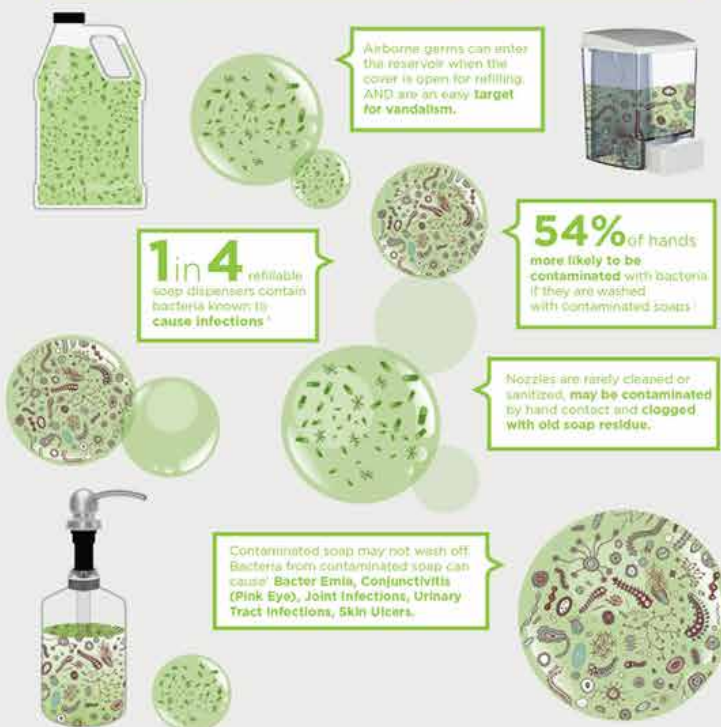

OPEN SOAP DISPENSER SYSTEM

Also known as Bulk Soap Refillable Systems

Dispenses soap through a permanent nozzle from a refillable reservoir

Inexpensive and easy to refill, but "open" to contaminants like bacteria and germs

CLOSED SOAP DISPENSER SYSTEM

Characterized by hygienically sealed refills

Dispenses soap through a nozzle which is part of the disposable refill

"Closed" to foreign matter that can contaminate the soap and render it waste

CDC WARNS do not add soap to partially empty soap dispensers; the practice of "topping off" dispensers can lead to contamination of soap.²
